

Trend: Between 1990 and 2016, the proportion of full-time students rose from 69% to 78% of the total. The proportion of graduate students rose from 12% to 16% of the total during those same years.

Year	Undergraduate Total	Graduate Total	Full Time	Part Time
1990	43,192	5,882	34,270	15,478
1991	43,476	6,297	35,320	15,041
1992	43,947	6,413	36,012	15,041
1993	43,717	6,410	37,062	13,770
1994	45,470	6,465	38,016	14,614
1995	44,309	6,876	37,390	14,617
1996	44,013	6,993	37,330	14,569
1997	45,296	6,949	38,330	14,903
1998	46,991	6,649	40,686	14,013
1999	49,352	7,275	42,742	14,914
2000	49,554	7,287	43,364	14,559
2001	51,319	7,007	44,950	14,583
2002	52,669	7,260	46,753	14,592
2003	54,288	7,500	48,817	14,574
2004	55,909	8,204	50,229	15,355
2005	55,799	8,348	50,595	15,169
2006	55,669	8,727	50,773	15,305
2007	56,329	8,786	51,366	15,995
2008	54,999	11,074	50,751	15,322
2009	57,456	11,012	53,437	15,031
2010	59,707	10,993	55,400	15,300
2011	60,932	10,910	56,032	15,810
2012	58,917	10,528	54,040	15,405
2013	57,496	10,194	52,891	14,799
2014	56,828	10,024	51,937	14,915
2014	55,279	9,924	50,950	14,253
2016	54,699	10,090	50,598	14,191

Note: Includes Aveda Institute-Tallahassee, Flagler College-Tallahassee, Florida A&M University, Florida State University, ITT Technical Institute-Tallahassee, Lively Technical Center, and Tallahassee Community College.

Source: US Department of Education, Institute of Education Sciences, National Center for Education Statistics

